THE HILL CAME DOWN

Big Slide on the Railroad at Freedom.

ENGINE AND CARS DERAILED

Trains Delayed, but Made Time by Going Through the Conway Yards—Many Passes Being Watched Along the Line—Another Wreck.

Two wrecks on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh made work for the officials today, and had some effect upon the schedule.

The first occurred this morning at Freedom, a short distance east of Rochester. The hill there has been in a dangerous condition for some time, and although that part of the line has been carefully watched, a big fall of earth and stone occurred about 3 o'clock this morning without an alarm being given. There are three tracks at this point, and two of them were well covered, the fallen dirt extending along them for a distance of 50 feet. Trains were delayed because they were compelled to return to the switch and come through on the third track. A short time after the slide a freight train ran into it, derailing the engine and three cars. No one was hurt. This wreckage added to the obstruction, but a large force of men were put to work, and at noon the tracks were clear and trains from the east were moving on time.

The second wreck occurred at East Rochester, 38 miles from the city, on the main line. A freight was making fast time when an axle broke, and cars were piled one upon another. The noon train was delayed for over an hour. The train from the river division passed through this city on time.

The rain has caused railway officials to be on their guard, and the tracks from Rochester to Bellaire are closely watched. Slides below Wellsville and east of Smith's Ferry are expected if the rain continues.

WELL ENTERTAINED

Will Be the Delegates to the Association Convention.

Secretary Charles, of the Young Men's Christian association, left on the Hudson last night for Cincinnati, where he will join the Ohio delegation bound for the international convention at Mobile. They will start on Monday night, occupying a special car, and will arrive in Chattanooga Tuesday morning. The day will be spent there, and the journey resumed that night. The business men of Mobile have prepared an excellent program, and the delegates will enjoy all of their stay in the south. Next Monday is Decoration day in Alabama, and the visitors will see the people of Mobile honor their Confederate dead. An excursion down the bay will be another feature, and arrangements have been made to take all the delegates to New Orleans. It is expected that over 1,000 delegates will attend the convention. Much interest has already developed in the south, and it is thought the Mobile meeting will have much to do toward strengthening the association in that part of the country.

THEY GIVE IT UP.

Trustees Will Abandon the Wellsville Road.

The township trustees have decided to make no more attempt to put the Wellsville road in anything like the proper condition for travel. They are not permitted to expend more than $50 at any time in repairing roadways, as when it costs more than this sum it becomes the duty of the commissioners to attend to the matter. It would cost several times this sum before any sign of improvement could be seen on the road, and, accordingly, the trustees have determined to let the commissioners and street railway company look after it.

DARRAH SUPPRESSED.

Officer Moore Put an End to an Entertainment.

Last evening Jerry Darrah was enjoying himself at his home in Third street by attempting to make Rome howl. The entertainment was not as delightful to the neighbors as it was to Jerry, and a lady called at the office of the mayor to have the fun stopped. Officer Moore was sent to the place, and Jerry was given a chance to play the second act of his drama in duress.

Standard Pottery Challenges.

The ball players of the Standard pottery would like to meet any pottery team in the city. The vocalists of the same pottery are willing to accept the challenge of the Sebring pottery musicians at any time, as they are confident they would win out in a singing contest.

MERCER'S IDEA.

He Thinks Pitchers Should Be Given Credit.

An eastern paper quotes Winnie Mercer as saying: "In that last game with Georgetown I worked Big Mike Mahoney, a heavy and dangerous batsman, for four strikes in two turns at the bat. In the first inning Mike had two strikes against him when the third hand was put out. He was, of course, the first man up in the next inning, and I worked him for two more strikes. Now, is it any more than just that a pitcher should get full credit for his work—that is, if the third hand is out when a man is at the bat, let the ball and strike record stand as it is when the batsman comes to the plate in the following inning. Such a rule would give both the batsman and the pitcher just what was coming to them—an even break."

THE STOFFEL PROPERTY.

It Will Likely Be Sold Within a Few Days.

It is almost an assured fact the Stoffel property, on Union street, will change hands within a short time, as was predicted in this paper a few weeks ago. A gentleman from Pittsburgh was in the city yesterday, who offered cash for the property, but it was not at the figure Mrs. Stoffel desires. The man will be in the city again and a deal is expected. There is also a party from Irondale after the land, but the manner in which he wants it does not meet the approval of the present owners. If no deal is made with the Pittsburgh party the place will be improved by Mrs. Stoffel, who will erect a large restaurant on the vacant ground in the rear of the building.

TOOK A HAT.

An Interesting Scene in a Millinery Store Today.

A young woman, supposed to be a resident of Wellsville, this afternoon went into the millinery store of Mrs. D. McDonald, picked up a hat and asked the cost of it. When Mrs. McDonald walked to the back part of the store the woman in question went out, and the hat went with her. The woman then went to the rear door of Fontt's grocery and asked for a piece of wrapping paper, stating she desired to enclose a package with it. Without the thought that anything was wrong she was accommodated. While in the act of doing this Mrs. McDonald caught her. The hat was returned, and information will no doubt be landed against her.

REBEKAHS IN SESSION.

The Eleventh State Assembly at Mansfield.

The eleventh annual state assembly of the Rebekah lodges of Ohio convened in Mansfield today. There are over 300 delegates present.

During the past year 25 Rebekah lodges have been instituted in Ohio, and a net gain of 781 was made in membership, the total in Ohio membership December 31, 1896, being 23,911, distributed among 346 lodges. There was expended during the year for lodge expenses, relief of members, etc., $26,818.71, leaving a total balance of assets of $25,514.16.

SIX MEMBERS ILL.

Measles Making a Showing in One Family.

Six members of the family of C. W. Powell are ill with the measles. There are no less than 300 cases now scattered through the city, which shows there is quite a decrease over last week. Within a short time it is expected the disease will be entirely gone.

A Little Child Dead.

Lawrence, the two-year-old child of Angus McBane, died yesterday afternoon. It had been ill but a short time, with the measles, when pneumonia set in, causing its death. It will be buried at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Spring Grove cemetery.

Struck a Log.

When the ferryboat was making a trip to the Virginia side, this morning, a log floating down stream caught in the wheel, stopping it. Before it could be released the boat floated down stream as far as Washington street. No damage was done.

Enthusiasts Make Donations.

Mayor Gilbert is an enthusiast on the subject of base ball, and yesterday presented the ball players with a ball with which to practice. They were given a bat by the proprietor of an uptown store.

MUSICIANS SET PRICES

A General Revision Was Made Last Night.

ONE PIECE IS NOW ALLOWED

The Question Was a Troublesome One, and Amusement Managers Have Been Complaining—The Union Think It Is Arranged For All Time.

The Musicians' union held an important meeting last evening. There was an unusually large attendance, and the question of regulating the price to be charged for music at Rock Spring and the other places of amusement in the city, was thoroughly discussed.

The regulations adopted some time ago by the union were very unsatisfactory for many reasons. It was decided after much discussion to abolish the rule, and allow parties who desired to engage a band or orchestra to take just as many pieces as they wanted. The union, however, decided to raise the prices. The band prices for a parade were raised from $1.50 to $2 per man; for concert, from $1 to $1.50. Orchestra prices were raised from $3 to $5 per man. For overtime the price will remain as it was, 50 cents per hour. This will undoubtedly be satisfactory to all parties concerned, as it makes it possible to engage only one piece if they so desire. It is upon this point the complaint has been general, and the arrangement of last night will be welcomed by those parties who have in the past declared they could make no money from amusements because of the expense for musicians.

A NEW BUILDING

Will Be Erected by Isaac Knowles in Washington Street.

All negotiations of the Turner society for the Knowles pottery in Washington street, have been declared off, and Mr. Knowles will June 1 commence the erection of a handsome brick block. The ground is 40x90 feet, and is now occupied by three small frame buildings. It is proposed to erect a two story building which will cover the entire space, and make two large store rooms. The building will be built in the shape of an L, and will extend to an alley back of the Ohio Valley gas office. The second story of the building will be fitted up for offices. A prominent secret society are endeavoring to get Mr. Knowles to add a third story to the building, and if he consents they will move their quarters as soon as it is completed.

WELL DONE.

McNicol and McCarran Are Doing a Good Turn.

The first game of ball at Fall River between the Regulars and Colts was played Monday. George McNicol at second base accepted nine chances out of 10. He had two double plays, two hits, two runs and two stolen bases. D. McCarran in center field loomed up as the star of the game with six put outs, two assists, one run, one hit and two stolen bases. He made a circus catch of one fly and participated in two double plays. The many friends of the boys in the city will be pleased to hear of their magnificent work, and are confident they are able to keep it up.

MEMORIAL DAY PREPARATIONS.

Grand Army Boys Will Have a Long Program.

The Grand Army are completing the program for Decoration day. Several committees are at work, and they will make a report at the next meeting. The program will differ somewhat from that of last year. The only people taking part in the parade are the Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, Relief Corps and the school children. Outside lodges will not be invited. The regular salute will be fired, and as usual flowers will be distributed. The program will be a lengthy one.

CAREY IN PHILADELPHIA.

He Will Get a Letter From Manager Stallings.

After weeks of uncertainty it at last seems that Toadix Carey would play ball with the Philadelphia league team. His case has been explained in these columns, and all the baseball enthusiasts of the city know that he and his friends have been patiently waiting to hear the decision. It was expected yesterday, but did not arrive until today, when it came in the form of a telegram from Manager Stallings telling Carey he would write at once.

Holiness Ward Again.

Holiness George Ward went to Irondale today where he will address a meeting this evening. Should the weather be favorable Sunday evening he will hold forth in the Diamond, and preach on "Divine Healing or the Christ Life."

A NEW STEP LADDER.

A Local Potter Has Secured a Patent.

An invention has been lately patented by a local man which bids fair to become a good thing. It is a folding ladder, and is made by a local potter. Operations for the manufacture of the ladder will commence within the next week or so. It has been shown to a number of business men, who pronounce it an article that is hard to beat. The factory will be on Second street.

ONLY TWO MEMBERS.

Have Filed Their Expense Accounts With Doctor Norris.

Up to the present time only two of the successful candidates for members of the board of education have filed their expense accounts with Clerk Norris. The reports must be in before tomorrow morning or the successful people cannot receive their certificates of election, the ten days having expired.

May Cause a Damage Suit.

There is an iron grating at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets that should be fixed before somebody is seriously hurt. The grating in question is broken, and every time any person steps upon it, sinks. A short time ago a lady received a fall at the place, but luckily she was not seriously injured or a damage suit would have resulted. It will not take much time to repair it, and the sooner it is done the better.

Surprised the Gymnast.

This morning a well known high school gymnast walked into an up-town shoe store, and playfully threw his arms around a clerk. He was considerably surprised to find himself lying on the floor on his back a few seconds later. It is possible a wrestling contest will now be arranged, as the high school boy wants revenge.

The Tenth Free Recital.

Professor Harper will give the last song recital of the season in the First U. P. church next Thursday evening. The professor will be assisted by a chorus of 30 voices and his pupils. A program of unusual excellence has been prepared, and the tenth recital will doubtless be the best of the series.

Booking Business.

Al McDonald, manager of the South Side park, was in Pittsburgh and Beaver Falls yesterday on business. While away he booked several picnics for the latter part of June and the first of August. The library committee will meet this afternoon to arrange their date.

Porter-Vale.

Mr. Porter Herbert and Miss Bertha Vale were married last evening at the residence of Mrs. Arnold, in the East End. The ceremony was performed by Reverend McCollough, of the Second Presbyterian church.

Pool Contests.

W. H. Clearwater, champion of the world, and Charles Buck are this afternoon playing an exhibition game of pool at a local room. Frank Lorenzo will be the contestant this evening.

Business Is Dull.

Business in the justice courts for the past week has been unusually dull, and very few cases have been entered. As usual, however, it is expected there will be a rush next week.

Liverpool In Irondale.

Irondale seemed to have some special attraction for East Liverpool people today, no less than a dozen taking the morning train for the town of tin.

Will Take Up the New Rules.

The board of education at their meeting tomorrow night will again take up the new rules and order a few bills paid.

Settled the Bills.

About $2,000 was paid out in checks yesterday by Clerk Hanley. It was the regular monthly settlement, and was an exceptionally large one.

Mrs. Davis Is Well.

Mrs. Davis, of Oblique street, who was injured some time ago by falling in a ditch in Washington street, has entirely recovered.

A New Roof.

A new roof is being placed on the Mountford property. The pottery is now in first-class condition.

No Arrests.

There were very few people on the streets last night, consequently no arrests were made.

HANGING BY A SHEET

James Davis Was Found by His Companion.

IN THE OLD JAIL AT LISBON

Sheriff Gill Cut Him Down, and After the Doctors Had Worked Hard For an Hour He Recovered—The Man Was Desperate, Sent to Canton.

LISBON, April 15.—(Special).—James Davis, who was convicted last Monday in the court of Judge Boone for obtaining money under false pretense from Masons in Wellsville, said last night that he would rather die than go to the Canton workhouse, and 10 o'clock, when all in the jail had retired, he hanged himself with a sheet to the rafters in his cell, and when found life was almost extinct. Davis was kept in a cell with Sebastina Calvin, a Lectonia Italian, and the attempt at death was made when the other prisoner was asleep. When Sebastina awakened Davis was dangling from the rafter. The Italian's cries of alarm brought Sheriff Gill in time to save his life, although doctors and attendants were compelled to work with him for over an hour before it was known that he would live. Davis was brought to jail March 30 by a Wellsville officer under the name of James Boyle. The charge was that of securing $2 from Albert Dawson last June. It is claimed that Boyle represented himself as a member of a lodge to which he did not belong. He got 30 days in the works and was fined $10. Since his sentence he has stated that he had no objection to Cleveland, but would die before he would go to Canton. All arrangements were made yesterday to take him away, and after attempting to carry out the threat he was taken today by Deputies Bick and Kells. He declared to the last that he would throw himself under the train before they reached Canton. It is supposed that his aversion to Canton arises from the fact that he has worked his charity game on members standing high among Canton Masons, as he has said that many times President McKinley has aided him. Davis is an engineer, and has been employed on Ohio river boats.

Too Many Deadbeats.

Said a well-known merchant yesterday: "When I started in business several years ago I had no idea there were so many deadbeats in this town as there are. I have sent my collector no less than 50 times to see a man who has owed me $1.50 for nearly two years, and yet I am unable to get the amount. Something should be done with this kind of people."

Only a Drunk.

Frank Smith was arrested last night by Officer Jennings for being drunk. He was sleeping this morning when it was time for the hearing, so his honor took compassion on his soul and let him slumber. Up to an late hour he had not been arraigned.

Looking For a Location.

Dr. George D. Ornum, of Philadelphia, is in the city looking for a location. The gentleman recently graduated from a dental college, and will open an office here.

Not Yet Returned.

The bond the city had drawn for the purpose of having the Chester railway people affix their signature, has not at yet been returned to the city clerk.

Two Different Days.

Freight shipments at the local depot were very light yesterday. This morning the platform was crowded because freight was so abundant.

Caught a Few Shekels.

Three musicians playing bagpipes, accompanied by a monkey, strolled through the streets this afternoon catching stray shekels.

A New Janitor.

The position of city janitor is in the hands of Pat Mooney. He is holding down his job in an able manner.

Lenten Services.

Lenten services will be conducted this evening and tomorrow at the Lutheran church.

Mass Observed.

At St. Aloysius' church tomorrow the mass of the pre-sanctified will be observed.

Bought Stone.

The Hudson put off a lot of flag stone for a local firm last evening.

Only a Little Business.

The mails have been unusually light so far this week.

Al McDonald, manager of the South Side park, was in Pittsburgh and Beaver Falls yesterday on business. While away he booked several picnics for the latter part of June and the first of August. The library committee will meet this afternoon to arrange their date.

Porter—Vale.

Mr. Porter Herbert and Miss Bertha Vale were married last evening at the residence of Mrs. Arnold, in the East End. The ceremony was performed by Reverend McCollough, of the Second Presbyterian church.

Pool Contests.

W. H. Clearwater, champion of the world, and Charles Buck are this afternoon playing an exhibition game of pool at a local room. Frank Lorenzo will be the contestant this evening.

Business Is Dull.

Business in the justice courts for the past week has been unusually dull, and very few cases have been entered. As usual, however, it is expected there will be a rush next week.

Liverpool In Irondale.

Irondale seemed to have some especial attraction for East Liverpool people today, no less than a dozen taking the morning train for the town of tin.

Will Take Up the New Rules.

The board of education at their meeting tomorrow night will again take up the new rules and order a few bills paid.

Settled the Bills.

About $2,000 was paid out in checks yesterday by Clerk Hanley. It was the regular monthly settlement, and was an exceptionally large one.

Mrs. Davis Is Well.

Mrs. Davis, of Oblique street, who was injured some time ago by falling in a ditch in Washington street, has entirely recovered.

A New Roof.

A new roof is being placed on the Mountford property. The pottery is now in first-class condition.

No Arrests.

There were very few people on the streets last night, consequently no arrests were made.

HANGING BY A SHEET

James Davis Was Found by His Companion.

IN THE OLD JAIL AT LISBON

Sheriff Gill Cut Him Down, and After the Doctors Had Worked Hard For an Hour He Recovered—The Man Was Demented. Sent to Canton.

Lisbon, April 15.—[Special]—James Davis, who was convicted last Monday in the court of Judge Boone for obtaining money under false pretense from Masons in Wellsville, said last night that he would rather die than go to the Canton workhouse, and 10 o'clock, when all in the jail had retired, he hanged himself with a sheet to the rafters in his cell, and when found life was almost extinct. Davis was kept in a cell with Sebastina Calvin, a Leontina Italian, and the attempt at death was made when the other prisoner was asleep. When Sebastina awakened Davis was dangling from the rafter. The Italian's cries of alarm brought Sheriff Gill in time to save his life, although doctors and attendants were compelled to work with him for over an hour before it was known that he would live. Davis was brought to jail March 30 by a Wellsville officer under the name of James Boyle. The charge was that of securing $3 from Albert Dawson last June. It is claimed that Boyle represented himself as a member of a lodge to which he did not belong. He got 30 days in the works and was fined $10. Since his sentence he has stated that he had no objection to Cleveland, but would die before he would go to Canton. All arrangements were made yesterday to take him away, and after attempting to carry out the threat he was taken today by Deputies Bick and Eells. He declared to the last that he would throw himself under the train before they reached Canton. It is supposed that his aversion to Canton arises from the fact that he has worked his charity game on members standing high among Canton Masons, as he has said that many times President McKinley has aided him. Davis is an engineer, and has been employed on Ohio river boats.

Too Many Deadbeats.

Said a well-known merchant yesterday: "When I started in business several years ago I had no idea there were so many deadbeats in this town as there are. I have sent my collector no less than 50 times to see a man who has owed me $1.50 for nearly two years, and yet I am unable to get the amount. Something should be done with this kind of people."

Only a Drunk.

Frank Smith was arrested last night by Officer Jennings for being drunk. He was sleeping this morning when it was time for the hearing, so his honor took compassion on his soul and let him dumber. Up to an late hour he had not been arraigned.

Looking For a Location.

Dr. George D. Ornum, of Philadelphia, is in the city looking for a location. The gentleman recently graduated from a dental college, and will open an office here.

Not Yet Returned.

The bond the city had drawn for the purpose of having the Chester railway people affix their signature, has not as yet been returned to the city clerk.

Two Different Days.

Freight shipments at the local depot were very light yesterday. This morning the platform was crowded because freight was so abundant.

Caught a Few Shekels.

Three musicians playing bagpipes, accompanied by a monkey, strolled through the streets this afternoon catching stray shekels.

A New Janitor.

The position of city janitor is in the hands of Pat Mooney. He is holding down his job in an able manner.

Lenten Services.

Lenten services will be conducted this evening and tomorrow at the Lutheran church.

Mass Observed.

At St. Aloysius' church tomorrow the mass of the pre-sanctified will be observed.

Bought Stone.

The Hudson put off a lot of flag stone for a local firm last evening.

Only a Little Business.

The mails have been unusually light so far this week.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, APRIL 15.

MR. BRYAN continues to talk a great deal, but a close perusal of his utterances will show that he is saying very little.

THE south is not so solid as it once was. Something over 30 southern representatives supported the Dingley bill in the house.

KANSAS is paying for the luxury of a Populist government, and the people are wondering when they will come to the end of the bill.

THE Democrats are troublesome fellows. They do not seem any more satisfied with the Dingley bill than they were with Wilson's attempt.

SENATOR TILLMAN has had nothing to say for several weeks. Perhaps he is realizing that light weights, like children, should be seen and not heard.

THE senators have abundant time to talk on other matters. They should dispose of the tariff at the earliest possible date. The country needs it.

THE queen of England will on June

22 behind six cream horses, the harness of which will cost $7,000. Yet they say thousands of British subjects are dying of starvation in India.

THEY say that Mr. Brice is not in Ohio politics this year for the very simple reason that gold Democrats are going to be as scarce as violets in a January landscape, and the wealthy New Yorker has no intention of giving something for nothing.

If the new council really has power and desires to use that power where it will do some good, let the members put on their thinking caps and think out a real good practical scheme for keeping the streets clean.

A MICHIGAN man bearing the name of Angell has been made minister to Turkey. That's a good selection. He would have to be an angel if he kept his temper and dignity while dealing with that old scamp, the sultan.

THE announcement is made in Chicago that Mayor Harrison will allow the saloons to run on Sunday, but the blind must be down and all doors closed. The few law abiding people in the Windy

City ought to be thankful for that concession.

"Who is McLean?" asks the Toledo

Blade. Well, as we understand it Mc-Lean is a Washington man who for political purposes would like just now to be classed as having an Ohio residence; he owns a newspaper in Cincinnati that has long been known among the most unreliable and sensational in Ohio; he controls the gas and electric light plants of Washington, and is a rich man who can, if he desires, afford to put money in the campaign.

FAIR PLAY.

"Fair play is a jewel." Yes, a jewel more precious than diamonds. This is all the News Review asks. This is all any honest man should ask. The laws and ordinances controlling East Liverpool were enacted with the idea that they were just and right, and that they should be enforced. They are simply

"fair play" to each and every citizen, and the individual or individuals who pick against enactment thereof, on the part of our officials, do not deserve recognition and are not worthy of being called men. Let our officers do but their simple duty, and "fair play" will always be accorded them in the columns of the News Review.

TEST ON THE TARIFF.

Significant Vote Taken In the Senate.

THE BILL'S FRIENDS BARELY WON.

Senator Kyle, Whose Position Is a Question of Interest, Was Absent—Gorman Went With the Democrats—Gorman Makes a Plea For Economy.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The first skirmish on the tariff question had in the senate was followed by a vote which can be considered a test of strength of the various elements of the senate. The vote occurred on a motion by Mr. Morrill (Rep., Vt.), chairman of the committee on finance, to defer a resolution by Mr. Vest, one of the Democratic members of that committee.

This made the issue between representatives of the two leading elements in the senate. Aside from this, the resolution was in the nature of a criticism of Secretary Gage and declared illegal his recent order relative to goods imported after April 1, when according to the retroactive clause of the pending

Dingley bill, the new tariff rates are to apply.

Mr. Morrill's motion prevailed by the close vote of 34 to 23.

The detailed vote was as follows:

Yeas—Baker, Burrows, Carter, Clark,

Cullom, Davis, Foraker, Frye, Gall-inger, Hawley, Hanna, Hansbrough,

Hoar, McMillan, Mantle, Mason, Nelson, Platt (N. Y.), Pritchard, Proctor,

Quay, Spooner, Warren and Wellington.

Nays—Bate, Butler, Cannon, Chandler, Chilton, Cockrell, Gorman, Gray,

Harris (Kan.), Heitfeld, Lindsay, Mc-

Enery, Martin, Mills, Morgan, Pasco,

Pettigrew, Pettus, Rawlins, Turner,

Turpie, Vest and Walthall—23.

The only Republican vote cast against the motion was that of Mr. Chandler, while the Democrats voted solidly against it. They had the assistance of all the Silver Republicans and Populists present except Mr. Mantle (Silver Rep., Mo.), who voted with the straight Republicans. Mr. Cannon,

Silver Republican, and Messrs. Butler,

Harris (Kan.), Heitfeld, Pettigrew and

Turner, Populists, were recorded against the motion. Messrs. Teller and Jones and Stewart of Nevada were absent.

Senator Kyle, whose position is a question of interest, and Senator Allen (Iowa) also were absent.

The affirmative vote was given by Republicans, including one silver Republican, Mr. Mantle (Mo.). The negative vote was made up of Democrats, Populists and two silver Republicans, Pettigrew (S. D.) and Cannon

(Utah). Prior to the vote a breezy discussion occurred on several phases of the tariff. The subject came up first when Mr. Mantle presented a memorial from woolgrowers urging ample protection for their industry. He referred,

in this connection, to reports that Secretary North of the Wool Manufacturers' association was acting as secretary of the finance committee. Mr. Morrill denied the statement, saying this gentleman had been summoned as an expert to give information on the wool question.

Mr. Gray responded to some of the criticisms of Mr. Mantle. He said he hoped to see the wool schedule arranged to the satisfaction of the woolgrowers. This should be done without arraying the woolgrowers against the wool manufacturers. Their interests were identical. Certainly no woolgrower would desire to have a duty on manufactured wool which did not afford adequate protection. This whole question must be settled by the voice of sober judgment of both interests.

Mr. Hoar referred to the fact that the woolgrowers were not without their watchful representatives when the tariff bill was before congress and he thought the argus eyes of Judge Lawrence would see that this interest did not suffer.

Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) said he desired to draw public attention to the remarkable proposition coming from the other side of the chamber. Senators had made clear that there was a compact, a well managed organization, for the purpose of raising taxes to the highest point on their respective lines of goods.

Both of these industries were represented, according to the statements made, but the great body of American people who were consumers of these taxed goods, were not represented here.

Mr. Morrill succeeded in cutting off the debate by calling for the regular order, but it soon broke out again on Mr.

Vest's resolution directed against the secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Vest declared that the retroactive clause of the pending tariff bill was illegal and beyond the power of congress. He characterized the retroactive clause as a nullification of the existing law and a move to intimi-diate the importers of foreign goods.

Mr. Morrill's motion to refer the resolution to the finance committee brought the question to an issue with the result stated. Mr. Morgan (Ala.) endeavored to have a time fixed for the final vote on his Cuban resolution. Mr. Hoar objected and Mr. Morgan gave notice that the resolution would be pressed daily until a final vote was reached.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up. It afforded Mr. Gorman of Maryland an opportunity to speak of the disorganized condition of the senate. The president had stated in his inaugural address that the condition of the country required the strictest governmental economy. And yet it was proposed to pass appropriation bills aggregating more than $73,-

000,000 without the consideration of a duly organized committee of the senate. Mr. Gorman said that careful consideration of these bills might lead to their reduction by $10,000,000. Appropriations were piling up, increasing and doubling within the last 12 years, until the stupendous figures of a billion dollars for a single congress had been reached. It was time to call a halt in these vast expenditures.

Republicans Ref. the Plan.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The committee appointed by the Republican caucus of the senate to arrange with the opposition a plan for the reorganization of the senate committees has decided to reject the proposition made by the committee representing the alliance of the Democrats, Populists and Silver

Republicans and to ask for another conference.

HOUSE DEMOCRATS SPLIT.

Bailey and His Followers Vote With the Republicans.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The house was in session but ten minutes and then adjourned until Saturday, without transacting any business. The session was long enough, however, to furnish occasion for a display of the division among the Democratic members, which the recent caucus had not been able to heal. In this division Mr. DeArmond

(Mo.) appeared as the leader of the opposition to the leadership of Mr. Bailey.

As soon as the journal had been read

Mr. DeArmond made a motion that when the house adjourn it be until Saturday.

Mr. DeArmond and Mr. Simpson immediately demanded a division. The vote on the motion was 131 to 38. Mr. Bailey and his followers voted with the Republicans while Mr. DeArmond and other Democrats and Populists opposed the motion.

Many Democrats refrained from taking sides, while those who rose for the division seemed equally divided on the question. Mr. DeArmond, Mr.

Terry (Ark.) and other Democrats

FLOODS CAUSE LOSSES

Few Orders Now Come From Down the Valley.

PEOPLE NOT BUYING CROCKERY

They Are Hard at Work Attempting to Save Themselves and Their Towns—Potteries With Trade Along the Mississippi Have Almost Nothing to Do.

Although it is not generally known, the floods in the Mississippi valley are affecting this city, and the order department of more than one pottery knows that thousands of people are homeless and many dealers have now no opportunity to purchase ware.

At this season of the year trade is usually very good in the country now under water, and all the local potteries have their share of it. When the flood began to be felt in that part of the country the railroads were among the first to suffer. They would not receive freight, and East Liverpool shippers could not get their ware to market. The roads reaching into the territory where thousand of dollars worth of our product is sold every year could not handle freight, and orders did not come in. The flooded districts were also good customers, and the loss from that source can readily be seen.

"The floods have hurt our trade not a little," said a leading manufacturer to the News Review. "Several days ago it seemed as though we were to shut down because of the falling off in trade, and I do not know but what we will be seriously affected yet. I understand the pottery at Evansville had to close from this cause, and I know several in this city, know from a source other than the newspapers, that there is something wrong down the Mississippi."

A POLICE REPORTER.

Frank Searight Has a Place on the Buffalo Enquirer.

The following letter from Frank T. Searight will be read with interest by his friends in this city:

"Believing that you always have a warm spot in your heart for your erstwhile reporter of the strawberry locks, I presume that you would care to hear from him once in a while. I am now engaged as police court reporter on the Enquirer, and it is sufficient to say that I am highly pleased with the position and the great city of Buffalo. Buffalo can also give other cities cards and spades in the matter of climate, especially when it comes to variety and rapidity of change. But it is a great place for all that and even exceeds my fondest expectations. The reporters all have a room at the police headquarters and all of the news is brought to us, so you can realize we are not overworked by any means."

AN AFFECTIONATE DRUNK.

He Hugged a Young Man, and Wanted to Embrace a Car.

A drunken man caused a ripple of excitement last evening at the corner of Sixth street and Broadway. He staggered across the street, and threw his arms around a young man who was standing on the corner. The young man pushed him away, and told him to move on. A street car came along, and the man placed himself in front of it in the middle of the track, and began to wave for the motorman to stop the car. Spectators expected to see the man run down, but the motorman quickly reversed his car, and an accident was averted. A sound lecture was given the drunk, but he climbed aboard the car, apparently unconcerned.

A HOMELESS COW.

The Poor Old Thing Is Sadly in Need of Shelter.

One of the shantyboat men near the wharfboat owns a cow, which, to tell the truth, "has seen better days." For some time the animal has been the only occupant of a home-made shed. Last week the shed was torn down, placing the animal in a homeless condition. In all the recent rain it has been tied to a tree, with a small bit of straw under it for a bed, and no covering but the sky. Once a day it is given a little exercise by the children of the neighborhood, who play with it as if it was a dog.

WORKING THE OFFICER.

This Small Boy Used a Very Good Excuse.

Tenant Officer Beardmore asked a youth why he was not at school. "My sister has the measles," was the sharp reply. "Where do you live?" asked the officer.

"Across the way." The officer looked over and saw a bunch of houses, and went his way. An investigation followed, and it failed to prove there was a case of measles in the young boy's home or in that vicinity.

LOOKING FROM AFAR

How Columbus Sees the Senatorial Contest.

ATTORNEY FARR IS SUGGESTED

As the One Man Who Can Save the Nomination For Columbiana County—There Are Others in the Field—Opinions That Are Interesting.

The contest for senator in this district is causing comment all over Ohio, and nowhere does it excite more interest than in Columbus. There such matters are carefully watched, and all information concerning them is eagerly absorbed. The battle brings out the following from the Journal:

"There is a lively contest on for the Republican senatorial nomination in the twentieth-twenty-second senatorial district, including the counties of Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont. The district is safely Republican, and there is no doubt of the election of a successful nominee. The contest for the honor is therefore all the livelier, and Hon. David M. Welday of Richmond, Jefferson county, is the present incumbent and until recently it was supposed would be renominated without opposition. Other aspirants are now in the field, however, and propose to contest for the honor. This comes about not through any criticism of Mr. Welday's work during the last session of the legislature, but by a personal desire to shine in senatorial circles. Because of this seeming effort to defeat him Mr. Welday may not endeavor to secure the renomination, though he could go to the convention with a strong following and good prospects of success if he did. Columbiana county seemed to have a fair prospect of getting the nomination until the holding of the recent election there, at which time the question of senatorial nomination was voted upon. The strength of the party was found to be divided between W. V. Blake of East Liverpool and Joseph Marshal of Hanoverton. The unwillingness of either man to concede the place to the other practically makes it impossible to hope for Columbiana to get the nomination unless some name on which all can unite is suggested, a thing that does not promise well at present. In this connection the name of L. T. Farr, an attorney at Rogers, Columbiana county, has been suggested, and he may prove the one needed to lead them out of the difficulty. The other counties taking advantage of the situation are not backward in proposing men, though Belmont has been particularly active and already has two in the field, Frank B. Archer of Bellaire and W. A. Hunt of St. Clairsville. Harrison county has yet presented no candidate, though it may later in the campaign. Jefferson has no one in view beyond Mr. Welday, and will not if he decides to run. The situation is somewhat puzzling at present and the prospects for a lively contest are promising."

A NEW SYSTEM

Will Likely Be Used In Connection With the Chester Phones.

Manager Frank Swaney is preparing to secure business for the telephone company in Chester, and thinks he will have a number of subscribers on the Virginia side. As yet it is not known what arrangement will be made regarding connection with the local exchange, but for the present it is expected that Chester subscribers will be the same as those in East Liverpool so far as their relation to other subscribers is concerned. They live outside of the county, but if possible no extra charge will be made for conversation. The company may introduce the arrangement at present used by those residents of Sewickley connected with the Pittsburgh exchange. There the subscribers pay the extra charge.

FARMERS COMPLAIN

Because the Weather Does Not Allow Them to Work.

The weekly crop bulletin says that the northern section of Ohio is not being favored with weather calculated to allow the advancement of farm work. The average temperature was two degrees below the normal of 15 years, while the precipitation was just double that of the average for the time given. There was but 14 per cent of the possible duration of sunshine. Plowing for oats sowing has been generally suspended owing to the rain, and while wheat is by no means promising, it has improved somewhat during the week. Peach buds are generally reported to have been badly injured, and in most instances the crop totally destroyed. The outlook for other fruit and berries is fairly promising.

MISS PORTER HAS RECOVERED

From the Effects of a Fall Through a Trestle.

Miss Martha Porter, who was so unfortunate as to sustain injuries more or less serious by a fall through a trestle in Florida several weeks ago, has recovered and is enjoying her stay in the south. After the fall it was found that Miss Porter had sprained her wrist and was painfully bruised. The party are enjoying delightful weather and consequent good health.

How Columbus Sees the Senatorial Contest.

ATTORNEY FARR IS SUGGESTED

As the One Man Who Can Save the Nomination For Columbiana County—There Are Others In the Field—Opinions That Are Interesting.

The contest for senator in this district is causing comment all over Ohio, and nowhere does it excite more interest than in Columbus. There such matters are carefully watched, and all information concerning them is eagerly absorbed. The battle brings out the following from the Journal:

"There is a lively contest on for the Republican senatorial nomination in the twentieth-twenty-second senatorial district, including the counties of Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont. The district is safely Republican, and there is no doubt of the election of a successful nominee. The contest for the honor is therefore all the livelier, and Hon. David M. Welday of Richmond, Jefferson county, is the present incumbent and until recently it was supposed would be renominated without opposition. Other aspirants are now in the field, however, and propose to contest for the honor. This comes about not through any criticism of Mr. Welday's work during the last session of the legislature, but by a personal desire to shine in senatorial circles. Because of this seeming effort to defeat him Mr. Welday may not endeavor to secure the renomination, though he could go to the convention with a strong following and good prospects of success if he did. Columbiana county seemed to have a fair prospect of getting the nomination until the holding of the recent election there, at which time the question of senatorial nomination was voted upon. The strength of the party was found to be divided between W. V. Blake of East Liverpool and Joseph Marshal of Hanoverton. The unwillingness of either man to concede the place to the other practically makes it impossible to hope for Columbiana to get the nomination unless some name on which all can unite is suggested, a thing that does not promise well at present. In this connection the name of L. T. Farr, an attorney at Rogers, Columbiana county, has been suggested, and he may prove the one needed to lead them out of the difficulty. The other counties taking advantage of the situation are not backward in proposing men, though Belmont has been particularly active and already has two in the field, Frank B. Archer of Bellaire and W. A. Hunt of St. Clairsville. Harrison county has yet presented no candidate, though it may later in the campaign. Jefferson has no one in view beyond Mr. Welday, and will not if he decides to run. The situation is somewhat puzzling at present and the prospects for a lively contest are promising."

A NEW SYSTEM

Will Likely Be Used In Connection With the Chester Phones.

Manager Frank Swaney is preparing to secure business for the telephone company in Chester, and thinks he will have a number of subscribers on the Virginia side. As yet it is not known what arrangement will be made regarding connection with the local exchange, but for the present it is expected that Chester subscribers will be the same as those in East Liverpool so far as their relation to other subscribers is concerned. They live outside of the county, but if possible no extra charge will be made for conversation. The company may introduce the arrangement at present used by those residents of Sewickley connected with the Pittsburg exchange. There the subscribers pay the extra charge.

FARMERS COMPLAIN

Because the Weather Does Not Allow Them to Work.

The weekly crop bulletin says that the northern section of Ohio is not being favored with weather calculated to allow the advancement of farm work. The average temperature was two degrees below the normal of 15 years, while the precipitation was just double that of the average for the time given. There was but 14 per cent of the possible duration of sunshine. Plowing for oats sowing has been generally suspended owing to the rain, and while wheat is by no means promising, it has improved somewhat during the week. Peach buds are generally reported to have been badly injured, and in most instances the crop totally destroyed. The outlook for other fruit and berries is fairly promising.

MISS PORTER HAS RECOVERED

From the Effects of a Fall Through a Trestle.

Miss Martha Porter, who was so unfortunate as to sustain injuries more or less serious by a fall through a trestle in Florida several weeks ago, has recovered and is enjoying her stay in the south. After the fall it was found that Miss Porter had sprained her wrist and was painfully bruised. The party are enjoying delightful weather and consequent good health.

IT'S THE SAME OLD MUD

Teamsters and Farmers Have Complaints.

EIGHTH STREET IS A BEAUTY

Complaints Are Long and Loud—Hill Road to East End Causes Comment—Calcutta Road In Miserable Condition—Chester Has Its Share.

If the rain is to continue any considerable time there is no telling what will become of the temper of those farmers and teamsters who are compelled to use the roads leading into the city and some streets after they arrive here.

The great wall of discontent comes from West End. There the people have just and righteous cause for complaint. Eighth street from the Horn switch to the trestle is as bad as at any time during the year. It is a long stretch of mud, a terror to teamsters, and a road cordially hated by every horse in town, provided horses are capable of that sort of thing. There are holes in the street so deep as to render them dangerous, and this morning the street was almost impassable. The Lisbon road is in but little better condition, although the water does not lie upon it in pools, as upon the other. At best, however, it is by no means a pleasant place, and residents, as well as farmers, are saying all sorts of wicked things about a city that will permit such a condition.

The hill road to East End is a succession of mud holes. From the head of Robinson street to where it passes the school house there are holes and holes, joined together by patches of dark and deep mud. The river road is also an abomination, and teamsters will not use it if they can reach East End by any other way. Several streets in East End are as bad as the roads, and wagons sinking deep in the mud are every day sights.

The Calcutta road keeps up its old-time reputation. It never misses an opportunity to become the bane of every man who drives a wagon out that way. At present residents have much to say about paving and other work of improvement, and some of them declare they will not forget it when the summer comes to put the road in good condition. Out on the Wellsville road it is as usual, so much mud that everyone complains. Across the river Chester is a sea of mud. Workmen, who are laying track between showers on the street railway, have anything but a pleasant time tramping through the soft, slimy stuff, while teamsters experience all kinds of discomfort. The roads leading from the country are water soaked and soft. All are in such condition that the people using them have many things to say of a civilized country where the roads are so neglected.

A HANDSOME BOAT.

The New Packet Will Be Elaborately Fitted Out.

A Cincinnati paper says that the new packet soon to ply between that city and Pittsburg will be the finest ever seen on the upper Ohio. The cabin will be luxuriously fitted out, the furniture being of the handsomest. The state rooms will be larger than the average, and the reception room will be something more than a name. Every modern improvement will be a part of the boat. Work on the boat is progressing rapidly.

TABLEAUX AND ART STATUARY.

A Pleasing Entertainment at the First Presbyterian Tonight.

The young ladies of the First Presbyterian church have arranged a splendid entertainment for this evening. It will be made up of tableaux and art statuary, a number of well-known young people taking part. The scenes have been arranged with the one idea of presenting a pleasing effect, and all those who attend are assured of an evening of enjoyment. Refreshments after the entertainment.

HE WOULD WAIT.

An Officer Thought the Drunks Were Not Ripe.

Two drunken gentlemen were reeling their way up Second street yesterday afternoon. A police officer was engaged in an earnest game of conversation with a friend, when the officer's attention was called to them.

"O, they are all right," was the reply. "Wait until they get ripe, and we will get them."

Union Street Impassable.

Union street, below Smoky row, is in an impassable condition. Improvements have of late been made upon some property on that street and as yet the dirt has not been carted away. Teamsters in passing this place are caused to drive upon the pavements.

Improving Rapidly.

Miss H. M. Brooks, of Thompson's hill, has taken a turn for the better. She is now improving rapidly.

Repaired the Float.

The float used by the ferryboat was repaired today. It has been in need of improvements for some time.

Has the Deal to Purchase a Salineville Plant.

NO POTTERY FOR THAT TOWN

Local Capitalists Could Not See Their Way Clear to Invest the Required Amount, and Nothing Has Been Heard From Them for Several Days.

Salineville was all excitement a week or two ago through the announcement that East Liverpool capitalists were falling over each other in an attempt to purchase the plants of the Furnace Fire Clay company and Cone Chimney Top concern, for the purpose of building a pottery. Now it seems that those dreams of prosperity have gone glimmering, and nothing substantial will come of the story.

Dr. George P. Ikirt, who has long been connected with the Furnace company and is in position to talk with authority, said today that he did not believe anything would come of the negotiations. He acknowledged that parties from this city had gone to Salineville for the purpose of looking over the plant, and with the avowed intention of purchasing, provided it suited their purpose. A price was placed on it, and they came home. Since that time they have done nothing, or if they have taken any action the Furnace company has not been notified. This prompts the doctor to believe that the deal has gone to that land where so many local deals have taken up their residence within the past few months.

A well known resident, who has some money, and would not object to placing it where he sure of a safe return, gave as his belief that local capital did not like to go into the pottery business away from home. "They are learning," he said, "that potteries can make money in East Liverpool where they would starve to death outside a pottery district."

A HARD CHASE.

A Liverpool Youth Ran Away With Some Spoons.

A young man, who it is believed belongs in Liverpool, entered Butler's restaurant in Third street, and before leaving slipped a handful of spoons into his pocket. The restaurant man was not asleep during this wicked performance, and at once started for the fellow who ran to the door. Gaining the street he dashed down the Bowery with Butler and a few others in pursuit. He proved the best sprinter of the lot, and reached the trestle before he could be overtaken. Breathless and unable to keep up the chase the crowd gave the silver spoons up for lost, but Butler proposes to keep a watchful eye for that fellow, and when next he comes to Wellsville something will happen.

Entrance of the Port Closed With Torpedoes—Spanish Ships and Soldiers Gone to Attack the Place—Big Battle Expected to Occur.

HAVANA, April 15.—Banes, an important port on the north coast, near Gibara, is in the hands of the insurgents, who have almost destroyed the place.

The expedition under General Roloff, by the steamer Laurada, carrying 3,400 rifles, 500,000 cartridges and several pieces of rapid firing artillery, landed alongside the quay at Banes. General Calisto Garcia, with 5,000 men, came to protect the convoy of arms and ammunition, but as Roloff had no men to arm Garcia was compelled to carry the arms into the interior.

It is reported that the insurgents, hearing that a Spanish gunboat might arrive at any moment, closed the entrance of the port with torpedoes. General Roloff, assisted by local bands and finally by the soldiers under General Garcia, commenced to fortify the heights around the port, hastily casting up trenches to make the port temporarily impregnable to any Spanish forces in the neighborhood of Gibara.

The gunboats Nerva Espanas and Meallia had arrived at Nipe from Havana. The cruiser Marceles had left Havana on the 12th with four companies of marines and infantry under the command of Rear Admiral Marenco, to unite with all the forces which had left Nipe and Gibara with a view to a combined land and sea attack upon the insurgent position, for the recovery of the port of Banes.

Nipe is separated from Banes by the San Ramon canal. Three columns marched on Banes, where they are in full view of the formidable and nearly impregnable insurgent positions.

WORKING AND WATCHING.

Thousands Trying to Hold the Louisiana Levees Intact—Number of Negroes Drowned—Many In Peril—Fears That No Crops Can Be Planted.

MEMPHIS, April 15.—The river continues to slowly rise at Vicksburg and all points south and the situation along the Louisiana system of levees is acute. The waters are being hurled gulfward with tremendous force and several thousand men are working and watching night and day in one grand effort to hold the embankments intact.

Reports from the overflowed Mississippi delta are not encouraging. The expected fall in the waters that extend for miles and miles over the fertile valley has not occurred. Many well-known planters express the fear that the yellow stream will not recede until June, too late to plant this year's crop. Much suffering still exists in the Sandfower and Bogue Phalia country, where hundreds of negroes have deserted their cabins and are huddled on high grounds and the railroad tracks.

Many cabins are submerged to their very roofs, while several have been swept from their foundations and carried away by the swift current. On a plantation ten miles west of Helena Sylvester Sanders, a colored tenant, his wife and five children were overwhelmed by the current and all perished.

Near Greenville two negroes were drowned in an attempt to reach dry land.

Word reached Vicksburg that many negroes were in imminent peril at Davis Island, where the break in a private levee has occurred and assistance was asked for. A relief steamer was immediately dispatched to the island.

Less Danger at Omaha.

OMAHA, April 15.—There is less danger of the threatened cutoff by the Missouri river and unless there is an unlooked for rise or a high wind from the north it is not probable that much more damage will be done.

KING GEORGE CONDEMNS EUROPE.

If Greece Had Been Big, He Says, Her Policy Would Have Been Approved.

LONDON, April 15.—The Daily Chronicle publishes the following today from its Athens correspondent, Mr. Henry Norman: "I have had an audience with King George. He spoke without much hope, but firmly, like a man who can only do his duty and leave the rest to heaven. More than once he said: 'If Greece had been a great power and had walked into Crete long ago, her action would have been welcomed by the powers as well as by the rest of the world as a blessing. But she is only a small power, and seems to be unable to do anything that will satisfy the great powers.'"

Turkey has informed Greece that another invasion of her territory by Greek irregulars will be considered a declaration of war.

Russia Wants American Armor.

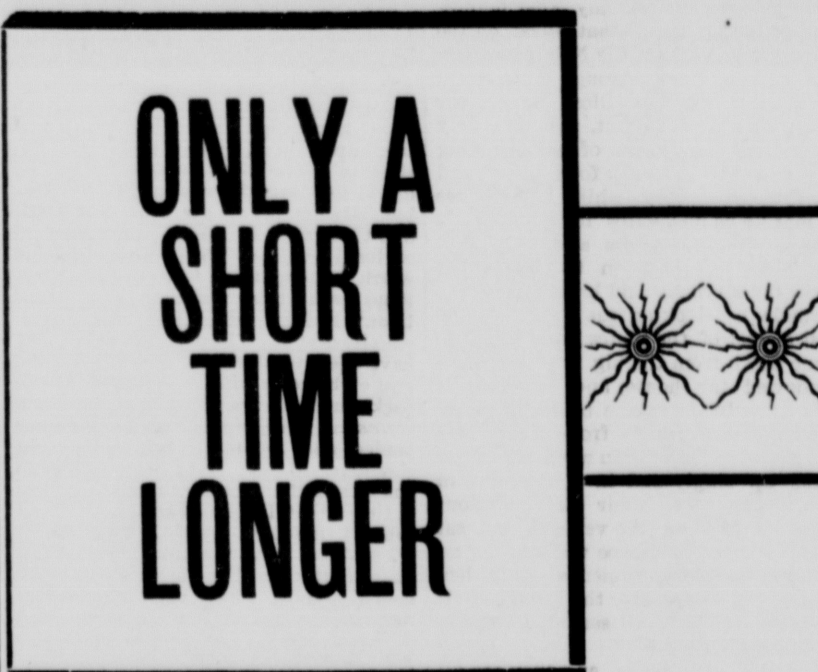

WASHINGTON, April 15.—In view of the very satisfactory tests of American armor plate heretofore sent to Russia the Russian government has asked the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies to submit proposals for furnishing armor plate for two large battleships.

Wouldn't Give the Names.

TOPEKA, April 15.—Representative Keefer occupied much of the time of the legislative investigating committee. Keefer had made broad charges of corruption, but showed a decided unwillingness to mention names or give other direct testimony.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Tomorrow is Good Friday.

The Young Men's Christian association now has 253 members and is steadily increasing.

The milk wagon of John D. Stewart this morning broke down in Cook street. No damage resulted except a broken axle.

"A large log about two feet square" is the peculiar way a local paper describes what it confesses is a "monster piece of drift."

Commissioner Finley and his force spent yesterday cleaning sewers in the suburban districts and scraping West Market street.

A water pipe in the flush tank in the Fifth street sewer burst last evening, and today it was necessary to dig up the street to repair the damage.

The Stars and Sunflowers played a game of indoor baseball at the Young Men's Christian association yesterday. The Stars won by a score of 20 to 13.

There was no final action taken at the meeting of ten stockholders of the Windsor Packing company yesterday. A week's grace has been granted them.

Measles has made its appearance at the home of Mayor Gilbert. The afflicted one is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller and a nephew of the mayor.

Tenant Officer Beardmore received a number of complaints from teachers yesterday about scholars not attending school regularly. He is now busily engaged in looking them up.

Adjutant General Axline has received word from Washington to the effect that within the next sixty days a full equipment of the new army rifle will probably be received for use in the National guard.

The houses in a down town alley face the railroad. In one of these is a singer whose voice swells in accents clear and loud at all the freight cars along the line. "And we wonder at crime" said one of the railroad men yesterday.

Business continues to be unusually slow at the office of township trustees, and their monthly report will show a considerable decrease in expenses. Occasionally a new case is found to enliven affairs but they are few and far between.

Complaints have been numerous the past few days about bicyclists using the sidewalks instead of the streets. There is a clause in the ordinance against this, and it will be a wonder if a crusade is not started against the wheelmen who repeatedly break it.

For half an hour last night a small boy stood shivering in the rain at Washington and Fourth streets. He was poorly clad, and seemed to be waiting for some one. When drenched to the skin he gave up in despair, and walked slowly toward Fifth street.

It is a cold day when the East Liverpool small boy is out of it. Lately they have gone into fancy bicycle riding, and there are now several youngsters who may be seen every day riding their wheels with faces turned toward the rear, besides making all kinds of fancy mounts.

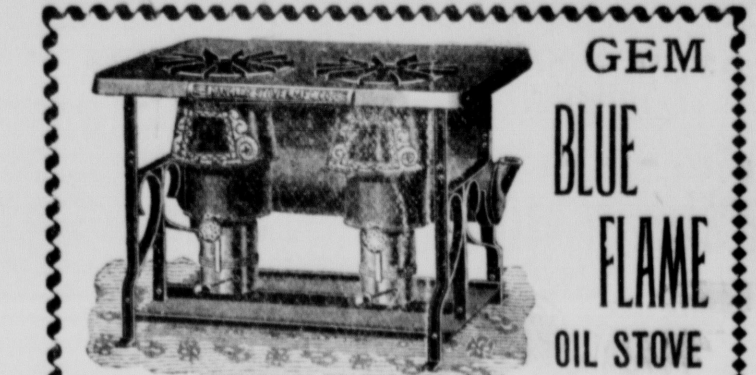

What's the matter with the street commissioner that he doesn't put his men to work cleaning lower Market street? Below the railroad the street is paved, and yesterday afternoon there was there no less than six inches of mud. This part of Market street has not been touched this year.

Spring Grove will be occupied earlier this season than ever before. There is at present one family living at the grounds, and on May 1, another family will move out. The ladies who will have in charge the dormitory are making all preparations, and the outlook is very bright for a successful season.

The Humane society officials are beginning to believe that all the old horses in the city have been gobbled up by the soap factory or received a decent burial. It has been months since the society has been called upon to consider complaints. It occasionally settles a family jar, but not a case of extreme cruelty has been reported for some time.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, at the lower end of Church alley, the residents were disturbed by hearing loud talking. Upon investigating they found a man and woman engaged in a war of words, with the honors in favor of the woman. An officer quelled the disturbance, but he didn't know it, as the warring ones saw him first.

People who are doing the seining at Walker are evidently aware that they cannot be arrested as they are doing their work in West Virginia. Honest sportsmen are highly indignant at the way the fish are being caught, but are powerless to do anything. If the work continues it is probable someone will be taken and the case thoroughly tested.

Receiver Childs Would Pay Leontia Iron Workers.

M. J. Childs, receiver of the Salem Iron Company at Leontia, has filed application for authority to borrow $1543.96, with which to pay the employees from March 16 to March 31. He was appointed receiver two weeks ago. McKeefrey & Company, who hold large claims against the company, have been placed in charge.

James Boyle, executor of the estate of Dorothy Woolmaker, Salineville, has answered in the action in which his daughter, Mary Borger, attempts to collect $1,250 for caring for the old lady. Mrs. Woolmaker, he says, was induced by the daughter to leave her home in Liverpool, and move to Salineville in order to save the expense of two houses. The bill is unjust and should not be allowed, is his claim.

SUFFERINGS AT THE FRONT.

Terrible Scenes That Followed the Battle of Cold Harbor.

General Horace Porter, in "Campaigning With Grant," in The Century, telling of the battle of Cold Harbor, says:

The general in chief realized that he was in a swampy and sickly portion of the country. The malaria was highly productive of disease, and the Chickahominy fever was dreaded by all the troops who had a recollection of its ravages when they campaigned in that section of the country two years before. The operations had been so active that precautions against sickness had necessarily been much neglected, and the general was anxious, while giving the men some rest, to improve the sanitary conditions. By dint of extraordinary exertions the camps were well policed and large quantities of fresh vegetables were brought forward and distributed. Cattle were received in much better condition than those which had made long marches and had furnished beef which was far from being wholesome. Greater attention was demanded in the cooking of the food and the procuring of better water. Dead animals and offal were buried, and more stringent sanitary regulations were enforced throughout the entire command.

What was most distressing at this time was the condition of affairs at the extreme front. No one who did not witness the sights on those portions of the line where the opposing troops were in exceptionally close contact can form an idea of the sufferings experienced. Staff officers used to work their way on foot daily to the advanced points, so as to be able to report with accuracy these harrowing scenes. Some of the sights were not unlike those of the "bloody angle" at Spotsylvania. Between the lines where the heavy assaults had been made there was in some places a distance of 30 or 40 yards completely covered by the dead and wounded of both sides. The bodies of dead were festering in the sun, while the wounded were dying a torturing death from starvation, thirst and loss of blood. In some places the stench became sickening. Every attempt to make a change in the picket line brought on heavy firing, as both sides had become nervous from long watchfulness, and the slightest movement on either front led to the belief that it was the beginning of an assault. In the night there was often heavy artillery firing, sometimes accompanied by musketry, with a view to deterring the other side from attacking, or occasioned by false rumors of an attempt to assault. The men on the advanced lines had to lie close to the ground in narrow trenches, with little water for drinking purposes except that obtained from surface drainage. They were subjected to the broiling heat by day and the chilling winds and fogs at night and had to eat the rations that could be got to them under the greatest imaginable discomfort.

A Good Deal in Him After All.

"Well," said Papa Rushwood, as he settled down to his just before retiring cigar, "now that Bella has brought around her young man I can't say that I think there is much in him." "Guess you didn't notice the dinner he ate, Jacob," said the practical mamma.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

QUEER WEDDING BANQUET.

Where the Unbidden Guests Scrambled For Bits From the Table.

I was married in India, writes Phil Robinson, the author and traveler. I engaged for our honeymoon a little house—18 miles or so from any other habitation of white man—that stood on the steep white cliff of the Nebudda river, which here flows through a canyon of pure white marble. Close beside our house was a little hut, where a holy man lived in charge of an adjoining shrine, earning money for himself and for the shrine by polishing little pieces of marble as mementos for visitors. It was a wonderful place altogether, and while my wife went in to change her dress the servants laid breakfast on the veranda overlooking the river. At the first clatter of the plates there began to come down from the big tree that overshadowed the house, and up the trees that grew in the ravine behind it, from the house roof itself—from everywhere—a multitude of solemn monkeys. They came up singly and in couples and in families and took their places without noise or fuss on the veranda and sat there, like an audience waiting for an entertainment to commence. And when everything was ready, the breakfast all laid, the monkeys all seated, I went in to call my wife.

"Breakfast is ready, and they are all waiting," I said. "Who are waiting?" she asked in dismay. "I thought we were going to be alone, and I was just coming out in my dressing gown."

"Never mind," I said. "The people about here are not very fashionably dressed themselves. They wear pretty much the same things all the year round."

And so my wife came out. Imagine, then, her astonishment. In the middle of the veranda stood her breakfast table, and all the rest of the space, as well as the railings and the steps, was covered with monkeys, as grave as possible and as motionless and silent as if they were stuffed. Only their eyes kept blinking and their little round ears kept twitching. Laughing heartily—at which the monkeys only looked all the graver—my wife sat down.

"Will they eat anything?" asked she. "Try them," I said. So she picked up a biscuit and threw it among the company. And the result! About 300 monkeys jumped up in the air like one, and just for one instant there was a riot that defies description. The next instant every monkey was sitting in its place as solemn and serious as if it had never moved. Only their eyes winked and their ears twitched.

My wife threw them another biscuit, and again the riot, and then another and another and another. But at length we had given all that we had to give and got up to go. The monkeys at once rose, every monkey on the veranda, and advancing gravely to the steps walked down them in a solemn procession, old and young together, and dispersed for the day's occupations.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

It is only when such items touch upon some matter of common knowledge that attention is centered upon them, and in the present instance a perusal of what follows will be found not only interesting, but valuable. Remember always keep it in mind, don't lose sight of the fact that one line of local evidence about any article is worth a column of foreign testimony. Read what this resident says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. Wm. James, who lives at 283 Third street, says: "I have been troubled off and on for the past eight years with a weakness of the back and kidneys, a dull aching pain across my loins, up under my shoulder blades, and rheumatic pain in my right shoulder. I was very susceptible to changes in the weather, and was so bad at times that I could scarcely stand and support my own weight. The trouble affected my nervous system, causing frequent fluttering of the heart and a shortness of breath. I have generally resorted to porous plasters, but the relief was only temporary. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy, and got relief almost at once. The symptoms all left, and I have not felt any since. I feel much better and stronger generally."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for United States.

PREMATURE WRINKLES.

They Are the Record of Thoughts Forced on the Face.

Wrinkles are as natural to old age as a full, smooth face to childhood. They are due mainly to a certain shrinkage of the muscles—a shrinkage which characterizes more or less the entire system in the later period of life. It is in consequence of this general shrinkage that in advanced life the height is somewhat lowered; that the substance of the jaws contracts, thus often giving rise, by pressure on the nerves that pass through the bony canals, to severe and difficult neuralgia, and that the brain substance becomes reduced in bulk, water filling the vacant space. Were it not for the fixed habits and accumulated resources of a lifetime an old man's brain would not be equal to the work which he still performs easily. There is, of course, much difference between old people in this respect, which is due largely to temperament, habits of thought and of feeling and modes of life.

The papers lately told of a man over 100 years old whose face was wholly without wrinkles. This was a very exceptional case, for the great body of us, if we attain length of days, must take them with the addition of physical decay. Even the proud belle must make up her mind for wrinkles, but if, as she grows older, she grows in good sense, intelligence and kindly sympathies, her beauty of character will have an attractive far beyond beauty of face. While wrinkles result from the natural working of the system, they may also be caused by a perverted condition of the system, as are pimples, blotches and boils.

Now, the human face, unlike that of brutes, was meant to be the "mirror of the mind," the visible expression of every passion, emotion and inmost feeling. Herein is its chief beauty; hence its numerous muscles and nerves, whereby it is so wonderfully adjusted to this end. But muscles in constant or frequent exercise increase in volume, strength and readiness of action; hence habits of thought and feeling become stamped on the face, and we read so easily the character of the proud, the vain, the deceitful and the sensual man or of the kind, the calm, the energetic, the frank, the candid and the honest man. But there is nothing like care and worryment to plow furrows in the forehead, and these are badly marring the faces of some men and women. We pass in the streets persons of 35 whose foreheads are more wrinkled than the brow should be at 70. Some of these may have more care than others, but they unnecessarily yield to the tendency to express them in the face.—Leeds Mercury.

I would call the attention of all persons contemplating building to the fact that it will be to their interest to see me, as I have cut my charges one-half; my present price being three-fourths up to one and one-half per cent. of the cost of building and in some cases a fraction more. ## ASKS FOR MONEY.

Receiver Childs Would Pay Leetonia Iron Workers.

M. J. Childs, receiver of the Salem Iron Company at Leetonia, has filed application for authority to borrow $1543.96, with which to pay the employees from March 16 to March 31. He was appointed receiver two weeks ago. McKee & Company, who hold large claims against the company, have been placed in charge.

James Boyle, executor of the estate of Dorothy Woolmaker, Salineville, has answered in the action in which his daughter, Mary Berger, attempts to collect $1,250 for caring for the old lady. Mrs. Woolmaker, he says, was induced by the daughter to leave her home in Liverpool, and move to Salineville in order to save the expense of two houses. The bill is unjust and should not be allowed, is his claim.

SUFFERINGS AT THE FRONT.

Terrible Scenes That Followed the Battle of Cold Harbor.

General Horace Porter, in "Campaigning With Grant," in The Century, telling of the battle of Cold Harbor, says:

The general in chief realized that he was in a swampy and sickly portion of the country. The malaria was highly productive of disease, and the Chickahominy fever was dreaded by all the troops who had a recollection of its ravages when they campaigned in that section of the country two years before. The operations had been so active that precautions against sickness had necessarily been much neglected, and the general was anxious, while giving the men some rest, to improve the sanitary conditions. By dint of extraordinary exertions the camps were well policed and large quantities of fresh vegetables were brought forward and distributed. Cattle were received in much better condition than those which had made long marches and had furnished beef which was far from being wholesome. Greater attention was demanded in the cooking of the food and the procuring of better water. Dead animals and offal were buried, and more stringent sanitary regulations were enforced throughout the entire command.

What was most distressing at this time was the condition of affairs at the extreme front. No one who did not witness the sights on those portions of the line where the opposing troops were in exceptionally close contact can form an idea of the sufferings experienced. Staff officers used to work their way on foot daily to the advanced points, so as to be able to report with accuracy these harrowing scenes. Some of the "bloody angle" at Spotsylvania. Between the lines where the heavy assaults had been made there was in some places a distance of 30 or 40 yards completely covered by the dead and wounded of both sides. The bodies of dead were festering in the sun, while the wounded were dying a torturing death from starvation, thirst and loss of blood. In some places the stench became sickening. Every attempt to make a change in the picket line brought on heavy firing, as both sides had become nervous from long watchfulness, and the slightest movement on either front led to the belief that it was the beginning of an assault.

In the night there was often heavy artillery firing, sometimes accompanied by musketry, with a view to deterring the other side from attacking, or occasioned by false rumors of an attempt to assault. The men on the advanced lines had to lie close to the ground in narrow trenches, with little water for drinking purposes except that obtained from surface drainage. They were subjected to the broiling heat by day and the chilling winds and fogs at night and had to eat the rations that could be got to them under the greatest imaginable discomfort.

A Good Deal in Him After All.

"Well," said Papa Rushweed, as he settled down to his just before retiring cigar, "now that Bella has brought around her young man I can't say that I think there is much in him."
"Guess you didn't notice the dinner he ate, Jacob," said the practical mamma.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

QUEER WEDDING BANQUET.

Where the Unbidden Guests Scrambled For Bites From the Table.

I was married in India, writes Phil Robinson, the author and traveler. I engaged for our honeymoon a little house—16 miles or so from any other habitation of white man—that stood on the steep white cliff of the Nebudda river, which here flows through a canyon of pure white marble. Close beside our house was a little hut, where a holy man lived in charge of an adjoining shrine, earning money for himself and for the shrine by polishing little pieces of marble as mementos for visitors. It was a wonderful place altogether, and while my wife went in to change her dress the servants laid breakfast on the veranda overlooking the river. At the first clatter of the plates there began to come down from the big tree that overshadowed the house, and up the trees that grew in the ravine behind it, from the house roof itself—from everywhere—a multitude of solemn monkeys. They came up singly and in couples and in families and took their places without noise or fuss on the veranda and sat there, like an audience waiting for an entertainment to commence. And when everything was ready, the breakfast all laid, the monkeys all seated, I went in to call my wife.

"Breakfast is ready, and they are all waiting," I said.

"Who are waiting?" she asked in dismay. "I thought we were going to be alone, and I was just coming out in my dressing gown."

"Never mind," I said. "The people about here are not very fashionably dressed themselves. They wear pretty much the same things all the year round."

And so my wife came out. Imagine, then, her astonishment. In the middle of the veranda stood her breakfast table, and all the rest of the space, as well as the railings and the steps, was covered with monkeys, as grave as possible and as motionless and silent as if they were stuffed. Only their eyes kept blinking and their little round ears kept twitching. Laughing heartily—at which the monkeys only looked all the graver—my wife sat down.

"Will they eat anything?" asked she. "Try them," I said.

So she picked up a biscuit and threw it among the company. And the result! About 300 monkeys jumped up in the air like one, and just for one instant there was a riot that defies description. The next instant every monkey was sitting in its place as solemn and serious as if it had never moved. Only their eyes winked and their ears twitched.

My wife threw them another biscuit, and again the riot, and then another and another and another. But at length we had given all that we had to give and got up to go. The monkeys at once rose, every monkey on the veranda, and advancing gravely to the steps walked down them in a solemn procession, old and young together, and dispersed for the day's occupations.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A THIRD STREET INCIDENT.

Some Items of Interest Furnished Our Representative by a Well-Known Lady.

Items pertaining to the domestic life of people we don't know, who live in foreign parts, are as a rule dry and uninteresting to our readers. It is only when such items touch upon some matter or individual of which the reader has some knowledge that attention is centered upon them, and in the present instance a perusal of what follows will be found not only interesting, but valuable. Remember always keep it in mind, don't lose sight of the fact that one line of local evidence about any article is worth a column of foreign testimony. Read what this resident says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. Wm. James, who lives at 283 Third street, says: "I have been troubled off and on for the past eight years with a weakness of the back and kidneys, a dull aching pain across my loins, up under my shoulder blades, and rheumatic pain in my right shoulder. I was very susceptible to changes in the weather, and was so bad at times that I could scarcely stand and support my own weight. The trouble affected my nervous system, causing frequent fluttering of the heart and a shortness of breath. I have generally resorted to porous plasters, but the relief was only temporary. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy, and got relief almost at once. The symptoms all left, and I have not felt any since. I feel much better and stronger generally."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for United States.

PREMATURE WRINKLES.

They Are the Record of Thoughts Forced on the Face.

Wrinkles are as natural to old age as is a full, smooth face to childhood. They are due mainly to a certain shrinkage of the muscles—a shrinkage which characterizes more or less the entire system in the later period of life. It is in consequence of this general shrinkage that in advanced life the height is somewhat lowered; that the substance of the jaws contracts, thus often giving rise, by pressure on the nerves that pass through the bony canals, to severe and difficult neuralgia, and that the brain substance becomes reduced in bulk, water filling the vacant space. Were it not for the fixed habits and accumulated resources of a lifetime an old man's brain would not be equal to the work which he still performs easily. There is, of course, much difference between old people in this respect, which is due largely to temperament, habits of thought and of feeling and modes of life.

The papers lately told of a man over 100 years old whose face was wholly without wrinkles. This was a very exceptional case, for the great body of us, if we attain length of days, must take them with the addition of physical decay. Even the proud belle must make up her mind for wrinkles, but if, as she grows older, she grows in good sense, intelligence and kindly sympathies, her beauty of character will have an attractive far beyond beauty of face. While wrinkles result from the natural working of the system, they may also be caused by a perverted condition of the system, as are pimples, blotches and boils.

Now, the human face, unlike that of brutes, was meant to be the "mirror of the mind," the visible expression of every passion, emotion and inmost feeling. Hence it is its chief beauty; hence its numerous muscles and nerves, whereby it is so wonderfully adjusted to this end. But muscles in constant or frequent exercise increase in volume, strength and readiness of action; hence habits of thought and feeling become stamped on the face, and we read so easily the character of the proud, the vain, the deceitful and the sensual man or of the kind, the calm, the energetic, the frank, the candid and the honest man. But there is nothing like care and worry to plow furrows in the forehead, and these are badly marring the faces of some men and women. We pass in the streets persons of 35 whose foreheads are more wrinkled than the brow should be at 70. Some of these may have more care than others, but they unnecessarily yield to the tendency to express their face.—Leeds Mercury.

Architect Fritz

To the Public.

I would call the attention of all persons contemplating building to the fact that it will be to their interest to see me, as I have cut my charges one-half; my present price being three-fourths up to one and one-half per cent. of the cost of building and in some cases a fraction more. Having many years practice in contracting, building, drawing plans and specifications, and knowing the strength of all material and work, both by theory and practice, and therefore have need of measuring up other architects work. I can guarantee all buildings I draw plans and specifications for, and supervised by me, to stand the test and the walls not crack and settle out of plumb as some specimens we have in this city have done.
